THE FIFTY FOUR PROPOSI-TION.

Had a majority of the people of Tennessee been of our opinion, the State debt question would have been settled long ago. We favored paying every dollar, and never abandoned that position until a proposition to scale the debt had first come from the creditors. We held these views while others were proposing to scale the debt nearly one-third, threatening, saying that the bond- when he issued his Civil Service holders could take that or nothing. When the Coe Award Committee. more than two years ago, decided that sixty cents on the dollar would out honestly. We shall ever regret bearing four per cent. interest, and lieve that our law-makers acted the part of cowards when they refused to take final action without first submitting it to the people. But it times, and, in view of the circumstances, in view of a vicious public "Among the prominent men outside the State who have expressed their sentiment in many portions of the State, for which one is in such demand as Senator we are in no wise responsible, we are willing to sacrifice our own personal views to some extent and such demand as Senator and Each Chandler. Ten times as many applications for him have already came in to the committee as he will be able to respond to. When local compersonal views to some extent and give such bondholders as may wish not much of a speaker and that some one else might suit them better, their

Already it has stood in the way of enterprises, mander of the Fift enth Corps and that but for its existence would be now under way, that would add millions to our wealth and bring prosperity within our borders. We' want to see our mines developed, our agricultural enterprises encouraged, manufactories multiplied, population increased and our people made prosperous. So long as this question remains unsettled, we know that this can not be. While we are threatened with repudiation, we will have no emigration, capital seek other fields for investment, the world will have no confidence in our honesty and cheap demagogues will corrupt the morals of the people by dishonest harrangues about low

Entertaining these views, we are in favor of settling the debt held by persons who are willing to accept the 50-4 proposition, and when that is done, we stand pledged to pay the other creditors, if any, who will not settle on that basis, whatever they may demand. We are not in favor of forcing a single creditor to settle, but if this proposition fails, we look with forebodings to the future. We trust that Tennessee may never Beaconsfield is said to live entirely CHEAPEST IN THE WORLD be cursed with the foul stigma of upon champague jelly. without feeling that we are in great danger of such a disgrace. If by compromising our own views, without admitting their incorrectness for a moment, we can stand in the breach and do anything to prevent final and absolute repudiation, as a Tennesseean, as a State credit man, as a patriot, without at all impugning the motives of those who differ with us, we feel it is our duty to do so, and we intend to do it. We see the hosts of repudiation, ber what an evil influence they have exerted in the past, we are led to shun the paths they travel, which lead unmistakably to shame and disgrace. Something good may come from the adoption of the 50-4 compromise, but, from the out and-out, open-avowed repudiationists who oppose it, we need expect nothing but dishonor and infamy.

> In a recent conversation with Congressman Young, of Ohlo, President Hayes is said to have explained the object he had in view order No. 1, as follows: First, to prevent officeholders from attending nominating conventions as delegates, or in any way taking part in their manipulation; second, that no office-holder should be, under any cirbe a fair compromise, we did what we could to induce the Legislature to accept it promptly and carry it out honestly. We shall ever regret be right and the only course to pursue that it was not done. Now in order to promote, as far as possible, a portion of our creditors, the purity as well as the freedom of elections and to free the parties from representing about seven millions, of the debt, principle and accrued interest, have signified, in writing, their willingness to accept fifty per cent. of their claims in new bonds, bearing four per cent interest and least a disqualifier for any officer unwe are in favor of allowing them to der the Government to donate voluntarily any portion of his salary to aid the mount will be submitted to the people at the ballot-box. STALWARTISM appears to be in favor in Ohio. A correspondent of appears we have fallen among evil the New York Tribune writing up the canvass in that State says:

Send him along if We want to see this debt ques- sou can." Chandler's popularity is a significant indication of the Another may be found in the numer-ous requests for General John A. Lothe Army of the Tennessee. Among the Ohio orators the one for whom there is the greatest demand is General Garfield. He has grown steadtly in public favor, and his popularity, which a few years ago was confined to his own section, is now equally great in all parts of the State. There are very few counties which have not at this early day filed with the Central Committee an urgent application for a Committee an urgent application for a speech from Garfield."
